Why you should choose IMM Graduate School

The IMM Graduate School has been a top private educator since 1960, continuously striving for best practice and improving teaching and learning approaches.

Our qualifications are globally recognised by industry.

Employers ask for our qualifications by name.

Unlike most public universities with a broad and generic profile, our qualifications are on the cutting edge in their specialisation or discipline of marketing, supply chain and business.

We have affordable payment plans and an easy online application process.

FLEXIBLE DISTANCE LEARNING

Some of our students hold full-time jobs. With our flexible distance learning model students enjoy the flexibility of studying from anywhere, at any time and at their own pace.

Our model is convenient and customizable to your workload and budget. Select the number of modules that best suits your needs.

Enjoy a level of individualised academic support and personal attention that public universities are unable to manage.
